

I mourn'd, and yet shall mourn with ever-returning spring.

(b) Success is counted sweetest

By those who ne'er succeed

To comprehend a nector

Requires sorest need.

(c) Complacencies of the peignoir, and late

Coffee and oranges in a sunny chair,

And the green freedom of a cockatoo

Upon a rug mingle to dissipate

The holy hush of ancient sacrifice.

(d) Not easy to state the change you made.

If I am alive now then I was dead,

Though, like a stone, unbothered by it,

Staying put according to habit.

(e) "There is a coarse and boisterous money-making fellow in the outskirts of our town, who is going to build a bank-wall under the hill along the edge of his meadow. The powers have put this into his head to keep him out of mischief, and he wishes me to spend three weeks digging there with him. The result will

1. Explain with reference to the context on any four of the following : 5 × 4 = 20

(a) "When lilacs last in the dooryard bloom'd,

And the great star early droop'd in the western sky in the night,

be that he will be that he will perhaps get some more money to hoard, and leave for his heirs to spend foolishly."

(f) "I don't say he's a great man. Willy Loman never made a lot of money. His name was never in the paper. He's not the finest character that ever lived. But he's a human being, and a terrible thing is happening to him. So attention must be paid. He's to be allowed to fall in his grave like an old dog."

(g) "And I'm bloody glad of it, for one ! Serve 'im right !

Puttin' on airs, the stinkin' nigger ! 'Is Majesty ! Gawd

blinney ! I only 'opes I'm there

When they takes 'im out to shoot 'im."

(h) "I think it pisses god off if you walk by the colour purple in a field somewhere and don't notice it.

People think pleasing god is all

God cares about. But any fool living in the world can see it always trying to please us back".
